men, we should take immediate steps to restrict foreign immigration. There is no danger at present, at all events, to our workmen from the coming of skilled mechanics or of trained and educated men with a settled occupation or pursuit, for immigrants of this class will never seek to lower the American standard of life and wages. On the contrary, they desire the same standard for themselves.

danger has begun. It is small as yet comparatively speaking, but it is large enough to warn us to act while there is yet time and while it can be done easily and efficiently.

"There lies the peril at the portals of our land; there is pressing in the tide of unrestricted immigration. The time has certainly come if not to stop, at least to check, to sift and to restrict those immigrants."

Senator Lodge spoke for an hour, and was followed by Senator Pugh of Alabama in support of the silver amendment.

that the economic troubles of the United States were caused by an insufficient and congested currency. The Senator declared that the restriction of our money to the single gold standard was the root of our financial troubles. He added that, if the Democratic party under the leadership of one man, forsakes the cardinal principle of maintaining both metals, it will be the most remarkable revolution in political history. The Senator referred sarcastically to those Democrats who had been converted to gold "in the Cleveland firmery." No two persons were more widely apart on finance than Andre Jackson and Grover Cleveland. Senator Pugh said he could name members of Cleveland's Cabinet who were clamorous for free silver up to 1893, and who were now prating for gold. At 3: Senator Pugh yielded the floor to co

Senator Sherman at once called to order the Cuban resolutions, and Senator Morgan addressed the Senate on the question. The Senator said the American people had expressed their views on Cuban belligerency and independence by a great deluge of petitions and memtated a controversy by saying that Senators were familiar with the methods employed in getting up petitions. I did not know whether it was the case in this matter, but he presumed they were all on printed heads sent out from one source. Those represented no spontaneous public sentiment from the country at large, but were emanating from agencies at New York and Washington. It was doubtless part of a deliberate plan to influence sentiment.

Senator Morgan passed the petition to Mr. Hale and asked the latter to examine them and see if any fraud had been committed.

"Yes," said Senator Hale, "I have received hundreds of letters from leading business men."

"I regard letters as much more important," declared Mr. Hale, "and they give the views of conservative business men."

Senator Morgan went on to say that the Spanish Minister's statement had been drawn out by Spain's desire to delay action in Congress. Spain's

Senator Morgan proceeded to read from the Spanish Minister's statement and commented on it as he went along. The statement said the insurgents

KILLED OLD HARPERA Murder Story from the Mexican Border.*Oscar Eddenfeld, or Einhart, Held for Trial.*A Surprise in the Fair Will Contest—Carson Swindle Case Nearing a Jury—The Harrow Contest—Gates's Successor.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)
BENSON (Ariz.), March 16.—(Special Dispatch.) Word has just come in of a murder committed last Friday at a mine on Long Mountain in the Huachuca, near the Mexican border, and far from any settlement.

The mine is owned by an erratic old prospector named Harper. A few weeks ago there arrived at the mine a nomad who gave the name of Einhart. Einhart took his place in the mine and given himself up, saying that he killed Harper. His story is that Harper had given him an interest in the mine and that they quarreled over the division of profits, and while in front of the cabin, Harper attempted to shoot him, and Einhart took his pistol from him and shot him in the breast.

Appearances make this tale very fishy. Harper would not give away any interest in his mine. Furthermore, the wound entered the back, coming out lower in front, indicating that Harper was leaning over and was shot from behind. The deed was committed in the cabin, where copious blood stains were found, and not outside, as claimed by Einhart. The body has just been brought down for the coroner's inquest.

HELD FOR MURDER.

FAIRBANK (Ariz.), March 16.—At the examination today of Oscar Eddenfeld, otherwise Einhart, who surrendered himself to the Sheriff for the killing of S. G. Harper on Thursday last in the Huachuca Mountains, he held to the next grand jury for willful murder. When in custody Eddenfeld stated that Harper was about to shoot him when he crawled with him, taking the gun away, and held him with one hand while he shot him in the breast. Medical testimony proved that the ball entered the back, passing through the left lung, severing the main artery to the heart and coming out in front of the neck.

NEARING THE JURY.

Arguments in the Carson Swindle Case Nearly Completed.

CARSON (Nev.), March 16.—The Jones case will go to the jury tomorrow afternoon. The attorney for the defense expressed his willingness to submit the case to the jury today without argument, but the counsel representing the government insisted on a hearing.

The United States District Attorney opened and spoke particularly of Jones's rapidly-acquired wealth since his employment in the mine.

Jones said this was made by dealing in mining stocks, but the evidence and the books of the banks and brokers show that he actually lost in such deals during that time. To this the attorney for the defense replied that the prosecution's own witness said the fact that Jones had made large sums of money by stocks was a matter of common knowledge, and that it is very common for people to handle their stock transactions through other people. The argument will be continued tomorrow.

A SURPRISE SPRUNG.

Fair's Will of September 2, The Only Issue.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The first will of James G. Fair, dated September 2, 1894, and which disappeared from the County Clerk's office mysteriously soon after its filing, was formally admitted to probate today. The contest filed by Dr. Marc Livingston as executor of the second, or holographic will, and on behalf of the board of commissioners of the School Teachers' Retirement Fund, were stricken from the records as illegal because these persons were interested as contestants under the later will. The contest of the Fair children was withdrawn without prejudice before the filing of the will. The will of the heirs to file another contest within the statutory limit of one year.

There was surprise in the probate proceedings today when the document was produced, bearing Fair's signature, dated November 26, 1894, announcing that he republishes the will of September 2. This took the contestants by surprise, but they were to win by defeating the trust clause in the will, and not by probating any will subsequent to September 2.

THE M'WHIRTER MYSTERY.

A New Story in Connection With the Fresno Case.

FRESNO, March 16.—The local paper today publishes the statement that Dist. Atty. Snow was in San Francisco looking up evidence recently discovered concerning the murder of Louis B. McWhirter here three years ago. It was stated that on the night of the murder two girls and two young men were in the alley back of McWhirter's house and that the assassins in their flight passed the quarters so closely as to be recognized positively.

This information has just come to light, having been suppressed, it is said, to protect the character of the girls who witnessed the flight of the murderers. Dist. Atty. Snow denies this story, saying it is a political canard.

THE NICHOLSONS RELEASED.

Justice Morris Holds the Evidence of Murder Inadmissible.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)
BANNING, March 16.—(Special Dispatch.) Justice Morrison this afternoon dismissed the charges against Thomas and James Nicholson, charged with killing Robert B. Conover and James F. Roof, on the ground of insufficient evidence.

There was no important testimony introduced except that of James Nicholson, who did the shooting. His story bore every evidence of honesty and clearly established the necessity of shooting to save the lives of his brother and himself.

The Old County Must Pay.

FRESNO, March 16.—The suit of Tulare county against Kings county to compel the latter to pay a share of the courthouse bonds voted before the division of the county, was tried in this city today before Judge Barker. A decision was rendered for the defendant.

Judge Carter setting forth in his opinion that the Legislature had no right to say whether county property and county indebtedness shall be divided between an old and a new county when division occurs, and that a new county is entitled to the property as situated in its territory and the old county must pay the debts.

Insufficiency of Evidence.

FRESNO, March 16.—Two men, giving the names of James Leech and Dan Sexton, arrested on a charge of selling smuggled dry goods, were taken before United States Commissioner Prince for examination. The men claimed to have purchased the goods of the San Francisco firm. The evidence was not sufficient to detain them. Commissioner Prince believes them to be guilty of selling smuggled goods, but because of the insufficiency of evidence against them set the men free. Both claim to be ex-sallars and residing in San Francisco.

Can Undermine the Irish American.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The United States Circuit Court has decided that the owners of the North Star mine have the right to operate underneath the Irish-American mine. The case of the Carson Swindle Company against the North Star Mining Company has attracted much attention. The decision rendered has a most important bearing upon mining operations, as it maintains the integrity of United States patents.

W. N. Crutcher Dead.

AUBURN, March 16.—Hon. W. M. Crutcher, Deputy Internal Revenue Collector of the Fourth District of California, died at his home in this city this morning from a paralytic stroke received two weeks ago. Crutcher was a pioneer of '63 and was a member of the Society of Pioneers. He was prominent in State politics and had been all his life a consistent anti-monopoly Democrat. He was a native of Kentucky, 67 years of age.

The Barron Contest.

SAN JOSE, March 16.—Judge Reynolds this morning in the case of Edwin A. Barron, the negro claimant, against the estate of Ed Barron, assessed and ordered the opinion that the issue of heirship should be tried by jury and all other issues be tried by court. The case before the jury was set down for trial on May 5, and if the jury finds against the contestant that will end the case.

Arizona's Prison Warden.

PHOENIX (Ariz.), March 16.—Gov. Hughes this afternoon appointed Mr. T. Shaw to be warden of the Territorial prison to succeed Thomas Gates, who committed suicide on Friday. James Coyle was appointed warden of the State Prison, and was for two terms Sheriff of Pima county, and was renowned in the early days as City Marshal of Tombstone.

Irrigation Districts Escape Taxation.

FRESNO, March 16.—The Supervisors today granted the application of the Alta Irrigation District for the cancellation of its district assessment on the ground that it is a municipal corporation. If this rule is sustained, it will be of considerable importance to the people of irrigation districts. It has no application to the canals owned by individuals or corporations.

Cut Government Timber.

FRESNO, March 16.—John Benson was arrested today and taken before United States Commissioner Prince on a charge of cutting timber on the government land near Raymond, Madera county. Benson was released on bail.

HUNTING MILLIONS.

Experience of Miss Cornelia Seibals in England and Germany.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
BALTIMORE, March 16.—Among the 233 steerage passengers who landed at Baltimore from the steamer today was Miss Cornelia Seibals, who returns to America after hunting fortunes in Germany and England to which she believes she is heiress. Miss Seibals is 64 years old and was born near Edgelyfield, Scotland, in 1831. She is the widow of a man who died in 1880, and was said to have left $300,000 to relatives, some of whom lived in the United States. Her father, Miss Seibals stated, came to America from Edgelyfield three years after the close of the revolutionary war, settled in the Carolinas and became a wealthy man. She has several more millions due her from the Temple estate in England. Her mother, she says, was Marion Sarah Temple, daughter of William Temple, from whose family in England another great fortune is said to be awaiting heirs.

Eleven weeks ago, Miss Seibals said, she left New York with the intention of presenting her claims to the two fortunes. On landing in Bremen she proceeded to Edgelyfield, where she sought the services of a lawyer. No one assisted her and her persistence did not even enlist information to satisfy her as to the chances of securing the Seibals fortune.

Returning to New York she later made a final effort in her own behalf, she decided to go to England, there to get legal assistance in obtaining some of the millions of the Temple estate, which were, as she thought, only awaiting her presence and proofs before having them handed to her. Reaching London she entered the city by railroad, landing at Victoria station. Afterward she was arrested, and no argument she could use would make the London Justice believe whom she was taken believe that she was an heiress to the millions in the Temple estate.

"Thirty days in the workhouse," said Miss Seibals, "was the justice meted out to me. I could not get a lawyer to take my case, so, after serving my sentence, I set my face toward Germany again, where I hoped I might have better luck."

Again going to Bremen, she says, she found no one willing to assist her, and finally decided to return to this country. She said she was going to her niece, Mrs. Wallie Straehm, in Atlanta, Ga. Before starting on her fortune hunt she lived at Jackson, Miss. She says that the late L. Q. C. Lamar of Mississippi was her cousin.

WASHAKIE DEAD.

The Shoshones Now Threaten to Take the Wapath.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
DENVER (Colo.), March 16.—A special to the News from Lander, Wyo., says that news has just been received from Kincaid's ranch on Big Wind River, of the death of the young Shoshone sub-chief, Jim Washakie, at 8 o'clock this morning. The Indians will give him an elaborate funeral. Several hundred Shoshones will be in attendance, and an invitation has been sent to the Arapahoe tribe to participate.

The Shoshones Have Demanded that the Murderers be Arrested, even if they have to cross the line into Canada, as it is reported they will do.

MARTIAL LAW.

least discrimination been made against silver or its paper representation. In no instance has silver or certificates been refused in payment of a debt, or demand due the government, and in no instance has the government refused to pay silver or silver certificates in discharging its obligations when the holders of the obligations demanded or requested such payment.

"When United States notes or treasury notes are presented for redemption, gold is paid if it is demanded, and if silver is demanded silver is paid. Thus the coins of the two metals are treated exactly alike in making payments to the government, as well as in the discharge of debts to the government. It has always been the policy of the Treasury Department to discourage the use of silver to the largest possible extent, and in order to accomplish this standard, silver dollars will be sent by express at the expense of the government to any one who will deposit an equivalent amount in silver certificates or treasury notes of 1890, with the United States Treasurer or assistant treasurer, or with a national bank depository, and subsidiary coins will be sent by express at the expense of the government to any one who will deposit with such officers or banks any kind of United States currency or national banknotes. Gold is not sent to anybody free of charge.

"In August, 1893, there was a great and unusual demand in nearly every part of the country for currency in small denominations, and in its attempt to supply this demand the Treasury Department paid out, in defraying the expenses of the government, in exchange for other forms of currency, all the silver that could be lawfully used for these purposes, so that for a short period it was the government's policy to issue in standard silver dollars except in the redemption of silver certificates and treasury notes of 1890. The law authorizing the use of silver certificates on deposits of silver, provides that the coin deposited for, or representing the certificates shall be retained in the treasury for the payment of same on demand."

"It is, therefore, plain that when the amount of silver tendered exceeds the amount of silver certificates, the Secretary of the Treasury cannot without a violation of the law pay except for the redemption of certificates. At such times he has no more right to exchange silver dollars for gold, than he has to pay them out in any other manner. But there is another fund in the treasury which is required by law to be held for a different purpose. It consists of the bullion of silver purchased under the act of July 14, 1890. That act provides for the purchase of silver bullion at the market price, and the issue of treasury notes on payment for it, and it also declares that no greater nor less amount of such notes shall be outstanding at any time than the value of the silver bullion and the standard silver dollars coined therefrom, than held in the treasury purchased by such notes."

"Under this provision the Secretary is required to keep in the treasury at all times an amount of silver bullion at its cost price and in standard silver dollars coined from the purchased bullion exactly equal to the amount of treasury notes outstanding, and he cannot, therefore, lawfully use such standard silver dollars except of the redemption and cancellation of treasury notes. My letter to the Senate, upon which Mr. Crisp's statement seems to have been based, was written on the 18th day of August, 1893, and at that time there was no free coinage of silver; that is, there were no standard silver dollars in the treasury except such as the law required to be held for the redemption of silver certificates, and the treasury notes of 1890, and these redemptions were made at all times during that month, and every month when these forms of currency were presented. During the month of August, 1893, treasury notes to the amount of $1,232,367 were redeemed in silver and cancelled, and since the 1st day of August, 1893, the total amount of such notes redeemed in silver and cancelled is $1,232,367.

"Prior to my administration of the affairs of the department none of these notes had been redeemed or cancelled. Since the beginning of this administration nearly $10,000,000 in gold has been procured in exchange for other forms of currency. Of this amount $3,985,812 has been produced in silver by the free coinage of silver, and $10,323,330 in exchange for silver certificates. The department has never refused to exchange silver for gold when it had silver that could be lawfully used for that purpose, and if it had so refused I am wholly unable to see how it could be considered a discrimination against silver. It is not a discrimination against gold? If not, it is a course follows that a refusal to pay out silver for gold is not a discrimination against silver."

"In response to your verbal inquiry concerning the change of standard silver dollars during the present administration, you are advised that it amounts to the sum of $6,662,000 up to the fifteenth day of March, 1896, while the amount of such dollars coined in this country from the establishment of the mint in 1792, up to February, 1878, a period of eighty-six years, was $6,660,000.

"I enclose herewith a copy of my letter to the United States Senate referred to above. Truly yours, (Signed) 'J. G. CARLISLE.'"

MANDERSON VS. M'KINLEY.

OMAHA (Neb.), March 16.—An open letter was made public today by Senator Thurston in the alleged purpose of settling the difference between McKimley and Manderon forces in Nebraska. As the Senator is the spokesman of the Nebraska McKimley forces, it is supposed to be satisfactory to them. The plan is that the State convention shall adopt resolutions that it is the hope of the Nebraska Republicans to see McKimley President, but if the occasion arises in the national convention when they can nominate Manderon they will do so, and will vote so cast will not in any wise tend to defeat the nomination of William McKimley, or lessen his chances for nomination.

TERRIBLE REVENGE.

Two Brothers Take the Law Into Their Own Hands.

Lodged in the City Jail for medical treatment is a dirty ragamuffin named Charles Wheeler. James S. Wilde and Thomas W. Wilde are under $1500 bonds each to appear in the Police Court to answer to a charge of bringing Wheeler to his present condition.

James S. Wilde is the book-keeper at Off & Vaughn's drug store, and his brother, Thomas Wilde, is a teacher of music and organist at St. Vincent's. The former lives at No. 621 West Seventeenth street. Charles Wheeler is a man of middle age who loafs in that neighborhood, picking up a precarious living by mowing lawns and doing various odd jobs. Last Friday the beastly fellow enticed the eleven-year-old son of James S. Wilde into an orchard, and committed a crime against nature upon him.

When the father discovered what the depraved wretch had done, his wrath knew no bounds. With his brother, Thomas Wilde, he planned revenge. They found Wheeler loafing in a lumbard, dragged him into a barn and tied him down. Then one held a drawn knife at his throat to prevent an outcry, while the other—the father of the injured boy—mutilated Wheeler in a nameless way. The nature of the mutilation was one that naturally suggests a case as a penalty for the practice of bestial assaults upon the innocent, and, if successfully done, removes the possibility of a repetition of the heinous offense.

Then they gave him a dime and told him to go to the County Hospital. Wheeler was unable to gain admittance there, having no order from the supervisors, so he crept back to the barn and laid there all night. When Saturday came the two Wildes found him there, and told him to go to the free dispensary at the medical college on Buena Vista street. He accepted the suggestion.

Wheeler was given treatment there, and despite his expostulations, the matter was reported to the police. Wheeler was brought to the Police Station for further medical treatment. Sunday evening Thomas Wilde was arrested for his part in the affair, and yesterday morning James Wilde gave himself up. They were arraigned before Recorder Rossett and admitted to bail in the sum of $1500 each. The two brothers had no difficulty in finding friends to go on their bond.

LITTLE ZORA DAVIS.

She Trudged All the Way Up from Santa Monica.

Conductor Johnson of University Electric Co. No. 173 called at the Police Station yesterday to give some information in regard to Zora Davis, the twelve-year-old girl who ran away from her home at Santa Monica Saturday, as related in yesterday's Times, because her mother, Mrs. Burton, had scolded her sharply.

Mr. Johnson says that Sunday morning two wheelmen, riding up to Los Angeles from Santa Monica, passed a little girl who was trudging wearily along the road. They turned aside a little way further on, and after delaying some time returned to the main road and passed the child a second time. It struck them as strange that a little girl should be walking alone, with an appearance so weary and travel-stained, and after consultation they turned back and spoke to her, just as she reached Rosedale cemetery.

The child told them that she had walked all the way from Santa Monica and was on her way to her aunt's in Los Angeles. The men took pity on the weary child, saw her safely on an electric car, paid her fare, and took her to her aunt's home and bade her goodbye. It was on Conductor Johnson's car that she rode downtown.

THE LAETARE MEDAL.

IT HAS BEEN BESTOWED ON GEN. W. S. ROSECRANS.

An Honor From the University of Notre Dame Has Come to California—Presented by Bishop Montgomery Sunday Afternoon.

For twenty years the University of Notre Dame, Indiana, has observed the custom of presenting each year a medal to some distinguished member of the Catholic Church. The presentation takes place on mid-Lent Sunday, and as that day is called by Catholics "Laetare Sunday," the medal is known as the Laetare medal. Naturally this distinction is one much valued by Catholics. It is given not only for services rendered to religion, but for distinguished achievement in arms, in art, in science, in literature, in civil affairs. Such well-known persons as Augustin Daly, John Boyle O'Reilly, Eliza Allen Starr, Gilmory Shea have been recipients of this testimonial. This year the medal has come to California, and to Los Angeles. The University of Notre Dame has wished to honor itself by enrolling among its medalists that distinguished citizen and soldier, Gen. William S. Rosencrans. The address accompanying the medal explains the motives which determined the university to select a soldier this year for the highest honor within its gift.

Owing to the health of the general, the presentation was made privately, Sunday, at 3 p.m. Rt. Rev. Bishop Montgomery, accompanied by Rt. Rev. Bishop Medley and Very Rev. J. A. Adams, V.G., drove out to the residence at Rosencrans. Only the members of the family were present.

After a few introductory remarks, Bishop Montgomery read the following address: "Few men who have borne like you the rigors of war, the privations of peace, still fewer are they who, laboring for so many years in eminent public station, still wear a shield not simply unstained by reproach, but untarnished even by the breath of suspicion. Providence has been pleased to grant you length of days in which to enjoy the fulness of honor. You are the last, as you are one of the greatest, of those noble chiefs who led our hosts to victory. Your name is set among the brightest traditions of the republic; your services are writ in letters of imperishable glory upon our country's tablet of honor; and unborn generations, children of these States whose union you labored so successfully to preserve, will be inspired by your example and thrilled by the story of your genius and courage. It is not within the power of any man or body of men to honor you whom the whole nation claims for its hero; but the University of Notre Dame offers you the highest distinction within its gift in bestowing on you this year its Laetare medal. Accept it as a symbol of the proud appreciation in which your Catholic fellow-citizens hold your distinguished public services. The Laetare medal has been worn only by men and women whose genius has ennobled the arts and sciences, illustrated the church and enriched the heritage of humanity. It will be a joy to your fellow-citizens that you are now enrolled in that noble company which is worthy of you and which you will adorn. For in you are crowned the virtues of a Christian soldier—the generous response to duty, the unflinching service of laborious days and restless nights, the courage of a martyr and the gentleness of a hero. One of the noblest chapters of Catholic history is that which teaches the duty of patriotism and whole-hearted devotion to the public weal. Catholics are among the first to recognize that duty and respond to it. But whenever a standard cry goes up from the camps of fanaticism, when men would proclaim the church hostile to liberty and false to the principles of American government, she finds her best response and her strongest vindication in the lives of men like you.

The general expressed his pleasure at receiving the medal. He spoke of the pain it gave him that intelligent and otherwise fair-minded people could be found to believe the current calumnies against Catholics. Yet the circumstances of the times show that such is the case.

The medal is of solid gold, having on its face the arms of the United States in enamel, surrounded by a laurel wreath. The inscription in Latin reads: "Magna est veritas et praevalent." Great is truth and it shall prevail. On the back are the words "Laetare Medal." The reverse bears the legend "The University of Notre Dame, Indiana, to Gen. William T. Rosencrans."

CARELESS DRIVER. Runs Into a Lady Bicycle-rider—But Little Damage Done. The carelessness of a driver came near causing a serious accident yesterday afternoon. Miss Nellie Frankfield, daughter of Jacob Frankfield, president of the California Bank, went out with her cousin, Walter Poehler, yesterday afternoon, to take a bicycle ride. The two were near the corner of Eleventh and Hill streets, going north, when they met a two-wheeled carriage going in the opposite direction, behind which was a liquor-house delivery wagon.

Mr. Poehler spurred on ahead a little, but before the two rigs had passed Miss Frankfield, the driver of the delivery wagon suddenly resolved to pass the carriage. He lashed his horse up and with a quick jerk turned out to the left. He made the turn so quickly that the rear part of his wagon swung violently around. Miss Frankfield saw the danger, and jumped just in time. But one rear wheel of the wagon hit the bicycle, knocked it to the earth and passed over it. He would have collided with the carriage horses if they had not reared out of the way.

STRONG CHAIN OF EVIDENCE.

E. J. Dole Examined on a Charge of Forgery.

All yesterday morning was occupied in Recorder Rosier's department of the Police Court in the examination of E. J. Dole on a charge of forgery. The prosecution, conducted by Deputy District Attorney James, with the aid of Will Harris, attorney for the State Loan and Trust Company, sought to show that E. J. Dole bought a certified check for $250, raised it to $350, forged several indorsements and cashed it at the State Loan and Trust Company Bank.

The evidence presented by the prosecution was damaging. Mr. M. Crookshank, president of the Exchange Bank at Santa Ana, identified Dole as the man who entered the bank on February 11 and purchased a certified check for $250, payable to F. C. Howard. Mr. Crookshank particularly noticed Dole at the time, since it was an unusual thing to get a certified check for so small an amount. J. R. Porter, cashier of the Bank of Orange, identified Dole as the man who purchased a certified check for $750 on the same date, February 11. Mr. Porter particularly remembered that the customer in question wore black spectacles, which Dole is in the habit of doing. F. C. Howard disclaimed any knowledge of the Santa Ana transaction except what he has learned since Dole was arrested.

Phil C. Danile, cashier of the Asus Valley Bank at Asus, testified that in the latter part of February Dole entered the Asus Valley Bank and tried to cash a certified check for $500. He bore the indorsements of several well-known men, but the bank officials felt a little suspicious and told the customer he must have personal identification. Dole called the attention of the cashier to the indorsement of W. C. Bosbyshell and said he had a letter of introduction from him at the hotel. The cashier asked him to produce the letter. After a little while Dole returned, saying he could not find the letter.

This ended the examination. W. F. Bosbyshell announced that he had known Dole for some time and had in truth given him a general letter of introduction. The examination will be concluded on Wednesday. The prosecution will bring forward two other witnesses, Messrs. Vankowski and Lewis, employees of the State Loan and Trust Company, who will testify as to Dole's cashing the check.

Henry T. Gage is conducting the defense. It seems probable Dole's supporters will try to prove an alibi in regard to the buying of the $250 certified check at Santa Ana and try to place Dole in the battery charge placed on Charles Adams, one of the indorsers, whom all efforts have failed to find and whose prosecution believes to be a mythical person.

Ah Sing is a worthless old Chinaman who has served many terms in the chain-gang. Detective Auble recently saw him steal a hatchet and arrested him forthwith. He was yesterday ordered to appear in court again today. Since he has already been convicted of petty larceny, it is probable the Celestial will go to State's prison this time.

Maud Gray was in court on a charge of vagrancy. She was released on bond, and her trial set for the afternoon of March 23.

Simon Larre, the sheepman who drove his fleecy flocks through the city without first obtaining a permit to do so, paid a $10 fine for his carelessness. Bert Bell, the culprit who ruthlessly slew his neighbor's cat, will be tried at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Wong Doo, a seller of Chinese lottery tickets, will be tried on the morning of April 3. J. de Georges, a peace disturber, had his case set for March 25. B. P. Taylor, an alleged embezzler, had his case set for this afternoon.

The examination of W. S. Carter on a charge of embezzling a typewriter, was begun before Recorder Rosier. The opposing lawyers grew very warm but nothing much had been done when the case was continued until March 25, at 1 o'clock.

N. Watts is the negro who yells the papers so vociferously. He was arrested Saturday night for disturbing the peace with his brazen-throated cries, and yesterday demanded a jury trial. The case was set for April 7. Then Watts went out and yelled as loud as ever.

Union Meetings. The union meetings held at the Second Presbyterian Church on the East Side are steadily increasing in interest and attendance. Notwithstanding it being Monday night, the main auditorium was filled with adults. Evangelist Patterson draws an audience of adults beyond any evangelist who has been on the East Side. The meetings are not characterized by enough excitement to suit many people, and yet there is an undercurrent of deep earnestness that reaches the deepest depths of men's souls. Last night the singing was better than common. Mr. Jeffery was supported by a better choir than usual, and his solo on "The Bridegroom's Coming," was an excellent selection well rendered. After an earnest prayer by Dr. A. P. Graves, Evangelist Patterson preached an interesting sermon on "Heaven." Many manifested an interest in the after-meeting, and cards were signed. The signing of these cards does not indicate conversion, but designates the people whom Christian workers can follow up and win to Christ and the church. Today at 2:30, Mr. Patterson will speak at the Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church, and tonight at the Second Presbyterian Church.

Bishop Johnson. A telegram was received yesterday evening from Bishop Johnson at Santa Fe, N. M., stating that he would leave that place for Los Angeles on Wednesday morning. He will arrive here on Thursday evening on the Chicago limited, due at 6:05 o'clock.

The subject discussed by the Y.M.C.A. Debating Club last evening was, "Resolved, that the United States Should Adopt a Postal Savings Bank System."

Two Mexicans named Zenon Ortopera and Francisco Portillo were arrested by Officer Talamantes yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for disturbing the peace.

The first meeting of the Fraternal Brotherhood, a semi-insurance order, founded by a number of local business men, will be held at No. 126 South Spring street this evening.

Work on the First-street cut is so far advanced that a half-width roadway through it is now available, and is on a "traffic grade." It is so near completion that it is already proving the wisdom of the undertaking.

BROKE TABLE AND STOOLS.

Chinaman Accuses Officer Henderson of Malicious Mischief.

Sunday evening Officer Henderson went hunting for Chinamen. He encountered himself under a bunk and when a fan game had gotten in full blast, he jumped out and captured two men, Luey Tung Wob and Lue Sheun. But his time was so fully occupied in catching the players that he had no time to secure the implements of the game.

Since he did not have sufficient evidence to promise conviction, Officer Henderson made no complaint against the two prisoners, one of whom was suspected of being the dealer, the other merely a player.

Yesterday the case had an amusing new development. A Chinaman entered Recorder Rosier's courtroom and presented a complaint charging Officer Henderson with malicious mischief.

The complaint alleged that R. E. Henderson entered a house occupied by the Luck Sing Company, No. 765 Alameda street, and wilfully, unlawfully and maliciously broke and destroyed one table and two stools, of the value of $3. Goh Sang made the complaint.

ACEVEDO MUST GO.

The Town Rld of an Undesirable Citizen.

If Alberto Acevedo is not out of Los Angeles by 5 o'clock this evening, he will be clapped in the City Jail to serve out a sentence of 180 days. It is safe to say he will let no grass grow under his feet.

Acevedo is the son of a Mexican barber. He recently finished a five-years' term in the penitentiary on a charge of robbery. On his release he returned to Los Angeles and the bad habits and low company which had brought him into trouble before, several days ago he was arrested for battering a Chinaman, a deed connected with which were several circumstances that made it seem an attempt at robbery.

There was not enough evidence to have made this charge stick, so Acevedo was tried only on the battery charge. An appeal was made for mercy last Saturday, the prisoner's lawyer declaring that Acevedo, if let off, would leave at once for Mexico, to remain for years and perhaps forever.

Justice Owens took the case under advisement and yesterday gave the wayward young man a flogging, as asked.

The Tourist Hotel.

A meeting of the general committee of the Adams-street tourist hotel was held yesterday and favorable progress in obtaining subscriptions was reported.

The following Executive Committee was appointed: J. S. Slawson, S. B. Lewis, W. W. Howard, E. F. C. Klokke and E. A. Miller. Mr. Klokke was appointed general manager to obtain subscriptions. Mr. Klokke is an indefatigable worker, and having a good proposition to work on, there is every reason to hope that he will soon be able to announce that the much-desired tourist hotel is an assured fact. The committee has opened an office at No. 423 Byrne Block.

An Important Real Estate Sale.

An important real estate sale has just been consummated, whereby Michael Cudahy, the Chicago millionaire packer, has become the owner of the Jotham Bixby lot on the corner of Figueroa and Adams street. The lot has a frontage of 258 feet on Figueroa street and 250 on Adams, and the price paid was $25,000. The deal was carried through by Hinton & Whitaker, who say that Mr. Cudahy thus again shows his confidence in the future of Los Angeles, he having already large investments in the packing-house and the Nadeau ranch. Mr. Cudahy bought the lot to use for a residence, though he does not intend to immediately build upon it.

Father Nugent's Lecture.

Tonight, at the rooms of the Friday Morning Club, Monsignor Nugent will deliver his lecture on "Waifs and Strays." Few living men have had more experience among the struggling masses. A long, active and sympathetic life has been spent among the poor, and one of his chief aims has been to rescue youth of both sexes from the dangers of a life by saving them industrial training.

This story of the "Waifs and Strays" is equal in language and dramatic pathos to some of Dickens' best sketches of London life among the poor. No charge will be made for admission, but at the close of the lecture an offering may be made for the Newsboys' Home.

FELL TWENTY FEET.

A Workman Breaks His Shoulder and Tears His Ear.

W. H. Engle, an iron-worker on the new Wilcox Block, on the corner of Second and Broadway, fell twenty feet yesterday afternoon, sustaining painful injuries.

About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Engle was at work on a scaffolding near the ceiling of the first floor of the new block. Some wood-workers moved the supports of a piece of scaffolding near by. Engle chanced to step upon it and the crazy structure gave way. As he fell, his head struck on an iron girder, cutting a gash on the left side of the scalp and tearing the ear. The unfortunate workman whirled over and struck the bottom of the basement below on his right shoulder, breaking the shoulder blade. Dr. J. A. Munk dressed the man's wounds and Engle now lies in his room in the Freeman Block, corner Sixth and Spring streets, with his injuries well cared for.

Cannery at Santa Paula.

VENTURA, March 16.—Santa Paula is to have a fruit cannery, built on the cooperative plan, by the Santa Paula Labor Exchange. The building is of stone, and thirty men from the labor exchange are now engaged on the foundation. The plan, as outlined, is to have the building completed in time for this season's crop. Apricots and peaches will be the main product of the cannery, which, it is estimated, will employ about one hundred and fifty hands, all to be selected by the Labor Exchange. The venture is a new departure, and the outcome is being watched by labor organizations all over this Coast.
